

Date: December 30, 2016

Dear colleagues:

Happy New Year and Best wishes from SIE, UIBE.

On behalf of the University of International Business and Economics we send warm wishes to all of colleague on the great New Year. Thank you for being supportive to UIBE School of International Education, your institute has always been a great partner to us. Now we'd like to share the information about the arrangement of UIBE's dormitory of the spring semester of 2017.

The New International Education Building has soon to be completed at the January of 2017. Upon completion, some acceptance examinations shall be approved by Ministry of Education and other relevant government departments. Reliable sources confirmed that the new dorm will come into service at the mid of April, 2017. However, due to the new rooms are under decorated and there are many new furniture, considering about the health of residents, UIBE will arrange environmental monitoring and it would last around a month. Therefore, we decided to settle them down nearly university's hotels before the new dorm is ready. The cost of hotels is much higher but students only need to pay CNY80 for each person a day, UIBE will cover the rest of expense. Before the end of April 2017, all of our students will move back to dorms and live in the campus.

In addition, the new building will mainly offer the single rooms. The price is CNY 85-100 per day per person. The other dorms will stay in the same price as usual.

Please understand we resort to unprecedented measure only reluctantly. Thanks for your understanding and support!

Best regards

School of International Education
University of International Business & Economics